

11 – 12 July 2018

The second training session was held at Moldova state agrarian university (Chisinau).

During the session the following questions were studied: ELISA assays in food analysis (Dario Compagnone, UniTe), Homogenization and food dispersions: basic principles, concepts and techniques of emulsion science & technology (Carla Di Mattia, UniTe), Ability to carry out sampling, packaging, fixation and transfer of biological and pathological materials samples for laboratory researches (Małgorzata Kandefer-Gola, WUELS), ICAR guidelines and recommendations ( Marija Klopčič, UL), Biosecurity in laboratory (laboratories of levels L2 and L3); receiving of samples and way-out of wastes (Michel Pepin, VetAgroSup Lyon), Effects of agro-techniques on Food quality (Nidal Shaban, ISLE).

The project participants visited the Moldavian republic centre of veterinary diagnostic that is a member of the project consortium.

